

Design Spec: Maixe Vang

Summary:

For this project, I decided to make a website for my sister who is majoring in Graphic Design and is planning to get into the beauty and photography industry after receiving her Bachelor's Degree. In these industries, it is essential to start building a portfolio early on before your graduation so that businesses can see what you have done. The tone that I am trying to portray in this website is a friendly and classy look with a girly and beginner vibe to it.

The main colors are a shade of light pink along with white and black font to add the girly look to it. The font family is called 'Bad Script', cursive which adds in the classy look to it. There are multiple examples of her current work on the site and it is organized to be viewed easily. I think this is the best approach because this is what she would want to be portraying to her clients. She would want her photos to be easy to access and viewed and be neatly organized. Since she mainly takes friendly profile photos, this tone would portray that.
